

THREDUP

Like-new clothes from brands you love.

Inspiring a new generation of consumers to think secondhand first.

“What inspires me is that we’re here to build something that our kids will get to experience. We are transforming the way people think about secondhand, and we have the capacity and the energy and the vision to make that part of people’s lives for 20, 30, 50 years.”

– James Reinhart, Co-Founder & CEO

Headquartered in downtown San Francisco, thredUP is backed by world-class investors and a team that includes investors and executives from Netflix, Virgin, Diane von Furstenberg, GAP, Macy’s, and other powerful brands. thredUP is reinventing the secondhand clothing industry and inspiring a new generation of consumers to think secondhand first.
